A number of areas within the commercial zones have been designated as pedestrian-oriented zones, subject to additional design standards (see General Plan Land Use Section Policies for specific requirements).