Opportunity for Community Input on Redondo Beach’s General Plan Update

The Public is invited to a Community Meeting and Workshop on Saturday November 17, 2018

The public is invited to attend a community meeting on the City’s General Plan update on Saturday, November 17, 2018, from 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. at the Perry Park Teen Center, 2301 Grant Avenue.

The City of Redondo Beach has routinely and regularly updated various elements of its General Plan since the last major comprehensive General Plan adoption in 1992. Currently, the City is conducting a comprehensive update to three General Plan elements: Land Use; Conservation, Recreation and Parks, Open Space; and Environmental Hazards/Natural Hazards (which will become the Noise and Safety Elements) to effectively address growth and change, reflect the current goals and values of the community, respond to new laws, ensure the City meets requirements to be eligible for Federal and State funding, and craft goals and policies that allow the General Plan to remain a relevant “living” policy document.

The City Council formed a General Plan Advisory Committee (GPAC), to provide input to help shape updates to land use, safety, noise and open space goals and policies in the General Plan, which guides the City’s land use direction for the next 20-30 years. Since early 2017, the Committee has been learning about and discussing various planning issues facing the City now and in the future related to population growth, jobs, housing and market demand.

The Community Meeting on November 17, 2018 will provide the broader community with an opportunity to learn more about the General Plan update, participate in a land use plan survey, provide public comment, speak one-on-one with project team members and discuss ideas with fellow community members. Topics to be covered include: purpose of a general plan, overview of the process to date, issues and opportunities facing the City in the next twenty years, the general plan draft vision and guiding principles, focused areas where land use guidance is requested by the GPAC and an overview of the issues and opportunities concerning parks and open space that will include a summary of the results from the recently completed Citywide parks survey.

Attendees may attend all of the meeting or may stop by at their own convenience. A formal presentation will begin at 10:30 AM and last approximately 30 minutes. A question and answer and public comment period will follow the presentation from 11:00 AM to 11:30. The remainder of the time is generally an open house where City Staff and the City’s consulting team are available to answer questions and receive input, feedback, and comments. Refreshments will be available.
